Nurse Practitioner Professional Licensure Disclosure

Norwich University offers a Master of Science in Nursing and a Post-Graduate Certificate with concentrations in Adult Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner (AG-ACNP), Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP), and Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner (PMHNP). These Nurse Practitioner (NP) programs are designed to prepare students to sit for certification in one of these concentrations and apply for a license to practice.

This disclosure states whether these programs, if successfully completed, meet the applicable educational requirements for advanced practice licensure or certification in each state and territory. The information is strictly limited to Norwich's determination.

This disclosure does not provide any guarantee that any particular state or territory licensure or certification board will approve or deny an application. In addition, Norwich cannot verify an individual's ability to meet licensure or certification requirements unrelated to its educational programs.

Norwich University's Nurse Practitioner programs are not intended to meet prescriptive authority requirements. However, depending on the state requirements in which a student is located or intends to seek licensure, graduates may be eligible to obtain prescriptive authority. For information regarding the steps and requirements to obtain prescriptive authority, students should visit the applicable state Board of Nursing website. Enrolled and prospective students are strongly encouraged to contact the appropriate licensure board and to review all licensure and certification requirements in their chosen state or territory.

For Post-Graduate Certificates, Norwich cannot guarantee that pathophysiology, pharmacology, or health/physical assessment courses taken at other institutions will fulfill state or certification body requirements. Applicants are responsible for verifying with the state board of nursing in their intended practice state and the specialty certifying body to ensure that any courses transferred into a Norwich University School of Nursing program meet the necessary requirements for licensure or certification.

Although every effort has been made to keep this information accurate and current, this disclosure does not account for changes in state law that may occur after the determination has been made. Enrolled and prospective students are strongly encouraged to contact the appropriate licensure board and to review all licensure and certification requirements in their chosen state or territory.

In accordance with federal regulations and State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA) requirements, Norwich University has determined that its NP programs meet the educational requirements for licensure and/or certification for advanced practice as a nurse practitioner in the following states:
