MASTER OF Business Administration Online
Program Overview

Program Outcomes

Students will:

- Have a working knowledge of the key concepts of strategic resource management, managerial finance, marketing management, operations management, and strategic management.

- Understand and be able to apply the key concepts used in the primary functional areas of business management.

- Acquire the critical and creative thinking skills to identify business problems and recommend implementable solutions that meet business objectives.

- Demonstrate an understanding of the process for solving business problems and making sound business decisions.

- Be able to write and orally present ideas and proposals persuasively and effectively.

Program Mission

The mission of the Master of Business Administration program is to contribute to Norwich University’s goals by providing high-quality outcomes for graduates in the areas of experiential learning, leadership, creativity, and critical thinking.

More Than How to Succeed in Business

Does the world really need more business school graduates? After the recent financial meltdown and failures of leadership, there are probably many people asking themselves whether Wall Street or Main Street would benefit from another MBA. At Norwich, we believe that people of integrity with a strong moral foundation and personal ethics are needed in business today more than ever.

With the complexity of the financial markets, the interconnectedness of our global system and the speed with which modern enterprises adapt to technology, the knowledge and skills acquired in a graduate-level business program are critical. Couple that with the courage to lead and you’ve arrived at something in short supply: the qualities that typify the Norwich MBA.

The MBA program is structured as follows:

- Four start dates per year: March, June, September, and December.
- Six eleven-week courses of six credits each.
- Concentrations of specialized study in Finance, Organizational Leadership, Project Management, Supply Chain Management and Logistics, Construction Management, Energy Management, Technology Management, or choose a General MBA.
- A course of study no longer than 18 months (date of graduation depends on your start date).
- One-week residency preceding graduation.
If you can dream it, you can accomplish it — thanks to Norwich University’s expert faculty and dedicated student support advisers. Your team works together to keep you motivated and build the skills needed for a rewarding career. From program start to finish, you’ll never be alone. Our dedicated faculty and program staff are genuinely invested in your success and will go out of their way to provide the mentorship and support you need. Norwich provides 24/7 access and technical support to an online learning platform, enabling you to contribute to class discussions and complete your coursework at any time from any location.

Jennifer Brown, MBA Alumna

“I am so impressed with the level of intelligence and commitment that the educators have. The administrators have been amazing and responsive. I have been so amazed with the people who have been accepted into the program because of their work ethic and determination.”

Access to Extensive Resources

The Kreitzberg Library serves all online students and faculty. You will access to our library’s 100 online databases, 54,000 full-text electronic journals, and hundreds of thousands of e-books.

To help you succeed as an online learner, our dedicated distance learning librarian and reference staff members provide research assistance via email, phone, and chat. Our staff can also ship you books anywhere in the world from our circulating collection of over 140,000 titles, and provide journal articles not available online through our material request services.
Norwich University’s Master of Business Administration program, which is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP), is an 18-month program that consist of six, six credit courses for a total of 36 credits. The program culminates in a one-week residency and a graduation ceremony at Norwich University in June. There are four program start dates per year: March, June, September, and December.

Upon completion of the core, students can choose a General MBA, which provides an enhanced breadth of foundational courses in business management, or select a specialized concentration in Finance, Organizational Leadership, Supply Chain Management and Logistics, Construction Management, Energy Management, Project Management, or Technology Management.

For students who specialize in one of the seven concentrations, the online MBA program culminates in an independent research project that students complete during their final three courses. Using concepts learned in each course, students develop a set of strategies for identifying business solutions and achieving business improvement in their current workplaces or other relevant organizations. Depending on their case study subjects, students can present this substantive body of research to their current employers to generate immediate value within their organizations or use it as a work sample for prospective employers.

Curriculum

The Norwich Advantage

Unique Blend of Theory and Practicality

Rooted in theory and practice, our online MBA curriculum gives students a comprehensive foundation in core business areas including operations, finance, marketing, and strategic resource management as well as ongoing opportunities to apply that core knowledge to case studies and projects geared toward their workplaces and other organizations. Depending on their career goals, students can pursue a general MBA degree or focus their studies on one of seven concentrations in construction management, energy management, finance, organizational leadership, project management, or supply chain management & logistics.

Superb Teacher-Practitioners

Our faculty members have broad industry and research experience that informs and enriches their teaching, providing students with real-world insight and a context for applying their expanded skills and knowledge. Our MBA faculty includes current and former business executives, business owners, and consultants from around the world. Many of the faculty hold terminal degrees.

Faculty work closely with students and inspire them to produce their best work, motivate them to reach higher and further than they thought possible, and encourage them to make a difference. The MBA faculty’s mission is to inspire, teach, and mentor the next generation of business leaders.

Tom LaBatt, MBA Alumnus

“The MBA program broadened my view and increased my knowledge of how to run a business. Implementing what I learned and then seeing the positive results has proven to me that this education is truly invaluable.”

For leaders who are driven to serve. Leading change takes commitment, compassion, and the skills and knowledge needed to inspire and motivate. Norwich University channels your motivation to serve into a strong ability to lead within your organization and community.

The Norwich Advantage

The pace for each course is designed with busy schedules in mind

Through our flexible online platform, you can access program content and contribute to class discussions on your own schedule and at your own pace each week. This format gives you extra time to contemplate questions and compose well-thought out responses. Small classes and students from diverse professional and cultural backgrounds foster in-depth discussions and unique perspectives.

Your learning community can become an invaluable network

You will progress through the program in small classes called cohorts. Small classes of 16 or fewer students encourage frequent student-student and student-faculty interactions, while a team of dedicated program staff provides students with additional support and guidance as needed. When students enroll at Norwich, they not only gain access to a dynamic learning community but also to an extensive career network of successful alumni from around the globe.

Career Preparation

Norwich University’s online MBA program provides you with a foundation for success in a broad range of careers in the private, public, and nonprofit sectors. Our alumni have gone on to positions at top organizations including JPMorgan Chase and Co., Ford Motor Company, the American Red Cross, Deloitte, Citigroup, and the U.S. Department of the Treasury.
Norwich seeks goal-oriented individuals who have high standards of personal ethics and have demonstrated excellence in their professional lives and academic studies.

Applicants should have a desire to make a positive contribution to their field. Selective admissions standards are intended to ensure that those admitted will have the greatest prospect of successfully completing the program and contributing to the field.

Choosing a school to pursue your MBA is a major decision. We invite you to contact our Admissions Advisors who are available to guide you in your decision-making and provide as much information and assistance as you need.
